

Where imagination runs free

High School Coastal Creature Contest

"Where Imagination Runs Free"

What? Contest is open to all high school students who wish to participate. Project is to design a free-standing sculpture of a Coastal Creature (such as a pelican, crab, turtle, shrimp, fish)

When? September and October 2006

Why? Crystal Coast Tourism Authority is providing this contest for high school students to enhance their understanding of Carteret County's economic need for tourism and provide county-wide display of their art work.

How? Use your imagination to create an original design using various materials such as paper mache, paints and interesting "found" objects from nature. Sculpture cannot exceed 12" X 24".
